Powell County Confederates.

The writer of this article attended County Court at Stanton, June 3rd, 1912, and went to Geo. Stevens' for dinner. He there met up with several of the old Confederate soldiers. A. Rucker, aged 77 years; Nick French, 77; Moses Morton, 75; Hibird Powoll, 73; William Harrison, 72; S. D. Tyree, 73. This many ate dinner with the generous jailer of Powell and he did not charge them one cent. The other soldiers that were before the court were John Holder, Fulton Hensley and Poke Lewis, and they would have fared as well as the others if they had stayed to dinner. Nick French, William Morton and S. D. Tyree all have scars to show that they were wounded. "Uncle" A. Rucker says he was wounded twice, but not very dangerously. The old fellows all have wives except Wm. Morton, S. D. Tyree and William Harrison. Fulton Hensley is an old bachelor but is still looking for a wife. The old fellows are all getting feeble and will not get to enjoy their pensions many years, but the writer is glad to know that the State of Kentucky has come to the aid of these old veterans who fought and bled for what they thought was right, and glad that the old prejudice between the old soldiers is dying out and no one says nay to the old Confederates being pensioned. T. J. F.

A forecast by a Boston financial paper estimates the probable earnings of the Louisville and Nashville railroad for the fiscal year at 18 per cent. on $60,000,000 stock.

The young boy is out after mulberries there being a fine crop of them.

Bridge across Brush Creek.

A. C. Barnes is getting up money to build by private subscription a bridge across the mouth of Brush creek. Brodhead-Garrett has donated all the necessary lumber. The hill on the opposite side from the mill will have to be cut down six or seven feet. This will be done and the cut-off road from the Hoskin place will be improved to meet the demands of the people living in that neighborhood. As it is now when the river is up persons living just across the river must travel around by Powell's Valley to get over the bridge to town. Thus they are forced to travel three or four miles to get here when they could come with one-fourth the distance. The new road will greatly relieve the situation.

Kentucky Union Company Sued.

The Kentucky Union Company was sued last Thursday by John Howard, of Middlesboro, revenue agent for the State-at-large, who asked judgment for State and county taxes for the years 1908, 1909 and 1910 on property valued at $200,000. The suit was brought at Lexington where the head offices of the company are located.

Stanton Boys at Beattyville.

The Stanton Ball team came over Friday night and played two games of ball with our boys. The first game resulted in a score of 4 to 0 in favor of Stanton and the second game 11 to 10 in favor of Beattyville. All Stanton boys remained over Saturday night for the ice-cream supper and returned home Sunday afternoon.

The Stanton boys are certainly gentlemen and we will be glad to have them with us again.—Beattyville Enterprise.

What the Users Say.

The Times has frequently agitated the use of the King road drag on the Powell county roads. How it works in some other parts of the States is described by the following article from the Paducah Sun:

The Board of Public Works is in high spirits over the remarkable results of the King drag on Mill street, in Mechanicsburg. The street, which was in bad condition, was dragged, and is said to be one of the prettiest in the city. Neither the city nor the county lays claim to the street, and the Board of Works is now claiming it. President O. R. Kidd, of the board, says there is nothing like the King drag, and believes the farmers will take it up immediately.

The excursions have gotten well under way. Several cars of the pleasure seekers went to Torrent and Natural Bridge Sunday.

Elder J. M. Rash, a former pastor of the Christian church in this city, has moved from Winchester to Lexington.

Mrs. C. Shimfessel has taken very sick Sunday and has improved but little since then.

Darlingsville.

Mrs. Lizzie Snowden, of Winchester, is visiting her father, Wm. Snowden.

Mesdames Mary Hoskins, of Miami, Texas, and Ann E. Barnett, of Clark county, spent a few days with Mrs. W. F. Barnett this week.

A. Mountz, of Hardwick's creek, but a former resident of this place, has been the guest of P. D. Todd several days this week and trying his luck with the finny tribe.

Furnace.

Farmers are about through planting corn.

Dr. S. T. Scrivner has returned from Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lyle are in Lexington this week on business.

Misses Mary and Georgia Howell spent Sunday with their aunt, Mrs. Lilly Lyle.

Miss Ida Baker was the guest of Miss Jessie Wierman Saturday night and Sunday.

John S. Lyle has been employed to clerk in his uncle's, S. M. Maple's store at Irvine.

Miss Fanny Crow, of Hardwick's creek, was the guest of Mrs. Sara Adams last week.

Misses Merion and Lonnie Watson, of Mancilonia, Mich., are visiting friends and relatives here.

Mrs. Margrite Newkirk and sons, Claude and Roscoe, visited relatives near Stanton Thursday and Friday.

Miss Maude Messer was the guest of Miss Minnie Howell, of Fitchburg, Saturday night and Sunday.

Capital Punishment.

Down in the big gray building at Eddyville, sometimes referred to as the "Castle on the Cumberland" but officially designated as the Kentucky Branch Penitentiary, eight men are awaiting electrocution.

From time immemorial rural debating societies have discussed the question, "Should Capital Punishment be Abolished?" There are many persons who believe the question should be answered in the affirmative, but the laws of Kentucky prescribe the death penalty for certain offenses, and about all the concession that has been made to adverse sentiment on the subject has been the substitution of the electric chair for the gallows. All executions now take place at the Branch Penitentiary, and with the advent of the electric chair Kentucky juries seem less squeamish about returning the death verdict. In addition to the eight prisoners now at Eddyville under sentence of electrocution, five others, more recently convicted, are expected to arrive shortly, and the chief electrician is anticipating a busy season in connection with the unpleasant duties attendant upon his position.

When Kentucky used to hang criminals the task of manipulating the crude machinery of the scaffold fell to the Sheriff or one of his deputies. The Sheriff has been relieved of this gruesome duty. He delivers the condemned man at Eddyville and there his responsibility ends. The electrician does the rest, provided there is no message of executive clemency. The execution of the law's mandate attracts little attention, for it takes place inside the prison walls, and there is no attending popular excitement such as was the case in the days when men were put to death in county jail yards, or in that still more distant time when all hangings were public. The new method is a distinct improvement.

It has been a long time since Kentucky had so many as thirteen executions in prospect—and it must be remembered that the electric chair has been doing a good deal of deadly work since it was installed. If capital punishment really serves to repress crime the solemn activities at Eddyville should have a good influence for future peace and order.—Courier-Journal.

For Judge of the Court of Appeals.

Judge A. J. Kirk, of Paintsville has announced as a Republican candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals of this district. As Montgomery county has furnished the Judge for this district for the past fifty years, and as Judge Kirk is opposing the incumbent, an appointee of Governor Willson, who is also a Montgomery county man and as Judge Kirk is authoritatively said to be wholly qualified for the place, we see no reason why the Republicans should not give his candidacy some consideration.

It is predicted in a report of the United States Geological Survey that considerable phosphate will eventually be produced in Kentucky.

Why Preachers Go Wrong.

The question of "Why does a preacher fall" was met by pastor Dinsmore, of the 1st Baptist church, Anderson, Ind., in his sermon Sunday with seven direct theories.

Society and its "eagerness to copy the fashions of Sodom," was scored mercilessly as one of the chief contributors to ministerial delinquency.

"Women walk the streets today," he said, "and many of them come from Christian homes—who have not clothes enough to be called decent. They do it because it is fashion, and fashion is decorating the way to hell. When Christian mothers let their daughters go out in the street with dresses so low in the neck, as many do, and cut so short at the bottom, as many wear them, they need not wonder that hell is stirred up in the breast of every man who sees them."

As to the causes of the downfall of pastors, Rev. Mr. Dinsmore says: "Because he is human. The devil is in him just the same as it is in every other man. His temptations are more subject than those of other men. There are so many women who do not seem to know the limits of frank respect for those who have helped them in some way. There are some women, who, because they are either losing hopes for future bliss or because they have been disappointed in their majority, seem to want to make some pastor their confidant forgetting that he is always a man."

It is now well known that Roosevelt's backer in this fight for the republican nomination, is nothing less than the great "Steel Trust" which is a more powerful organization than the Standare Oil. They are paying Roosevelt's bills, paying postage on his literature, hiring special cars and automobiles and doing everything that money can do to insure his nomination. Roosevelt himself is endeavoring to create the impression that his fight against Taft is the result of popular demand on the part of the republican voters, for his nomination, but that popular demand is created entirely by the enormous corruption fund of millions which the Steel Trust and Harvester Trusts are furnishing. Roosevelt not only left these two great trusts unharmed when he prosecuted the other trusts but he actually helped the Steel Trust to swallow its only rival and competitor, the Tennessee Coal and Iron Co., and Roosevelt actually promised the Trust that he would not interfere with the consolidation which made the Steel Trust the most powerful corporation this country has ever produced.

That good school teachers in Kentucky are a short crop is evidenced from year to year. The profession of teaching in the country is far below what it was twenty-five years ago. With all the improved methods and the stringent requirements of examinations, every fall we find teachers trying to instruct the young that themselves should be in a fifth or sixth grade class in a country school. The school public is thus imposed upon from year to year, and a large percent. of the State's school fund wasted. Every session of the Legislature passes some law to try to do away with such a class of teachers, but the conditions seem not to improve.

We see where some counties are to vote on bond issues to improve their roads. This is a very commendable move and one which should be made in Powell. The Times is in favor of the county spending money only where the people who get the improved roads put up half the necessary money to build them, and any proposition to bond the county should carry such provision or understanding, and bonds should be sold only where this supplementary fund has been raised by the citizens.

Teddy the Terror has made much ado over Lorimer getting into the Senate the way he is charged of, and refused to dine with him on one occasion. It looks to us that of the two Lorimer is much the better if he is guilty as charged. What worse thing can their be than a nomination for President being bought by the steel trust and the harvester trust?

Some of our exchanges that use the ready prints of the Western Newspaper Union are apologizing for the class of advertising used on their inside pages, excusing themselves by saying they have no control over this part of their paper. With plate matter as cheap as it is now it seems to us that this can be easily overcome by discarding the ready print altogether.

The Colonel is fond of quoting from Lincoln. How is this;—"You may fool some of the people all the time; you may fool all the people some of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time."

It would be a most amusing pastime to read the Courier-Journal should Bryan and Wilson be the Democratic nominees for President and Vice President and Teddy the Republican leader.

"Let the people rule" is Teddy's slogan, and for this reason the Colonel professes to favor the primary method of selecting candidates. The whole truth of it is the "people" as referred to by Teddy embraces the floating element and the steel trust and harvester trust has bought up this element for the Colonel as just so many hogs. Roosevelt has millions of dollars at his command and it is safe to say the "people" are not furnishing it.

The noted Frakfort distillers of "Old Taylor" whiskey have offered Dr. Wiley the big salary of $15,000 to superintend the manufacture of their whiskey and attest its purity. To this the Harrodsburg Leader says:

"It's a pretty good advertising stunt," but neither Dr. Wiley or any other expert can purify it so as to take out the ruined homes that the consumption of the purest article of that character is responsible for."

One might enjoy out-door exercise and sports if the chiggers were not so bountiful in the grass and weeds. It is, however, a great blessing that the chigger is no bigger, or else he would cut a great figure in our hunting and fishing at this time of the year.

A Chicago professor says he has discovered the germ of spring fever. It is globular in form; shaped much like a baseball.

Funny that candidates should have fought so desperately to carry New Jersey when neither one needed it, so they said.

Mr. Taft sees a crisis in the nation's history. It wears glasses and shows its teeth.

Students Reinstated.

Jo. Cannon and M. E. Eagle, two of the boys expelled from the Kentucky Wesleyan College last week were in Clay City in the Spring with the College Team. They made many friends here who were surprised to know that the college had such a radical rule as to expell a student for simply engaging in a ball game away from home. The only charge against the boys was that they had accompanied an amateur team of Winchester players and went to Millersburg and played a game of base ball. At a meeting of the faculty the boys were re-instated. Eagle will graduate in a few days.

Scores the Colonel.

A few weeks ago Clean Politics, a Prohibition paper secured the evidence and substantiated the charge in its columns that Roosevelt was a drunkard of the very worst kind. Teddy's evasive answer to this is fully exposed in the last issue of Clean Politics and the original charge that he is a drunkard further verified.

When Roosevelt said: "I have never drunk a highball or a cocktail." To this Clean Politics answers: "Well, that might be true. The American people are not interested in the particular brand of liquors you drink. The common knowledge around Washington is that your favorite drink is champagne and ale, which you do not deny drinking."

"I doubt if I drink a dozen teaspoonfuls of brandy in a year," says Roosevelt. "No person has accused you of drinking brandy, Colonel, answers his assailant. "Wait until some one makes such a charge before you run to the press with a denial to cloud the real issue which is this: You drink, you drink heavily; you get drunk. These are the charges you must face before the American people, and these are the charges you must answer."

Mr. Roosevelt, you are making your campaign on the slogan, 'Let the people rule,' meaning, of course, that you are the people. You have condescended to the lowest depths of quagmire politics; you have falsified where it suited your case and you have told the truth only in such instances in which the truth suits better than a falsehood. Colonel, you can no more get around the ghost of young drinking habits than you can flee from any other wretched characteristics of yours the people have already found out. You may get the Republican nomination and probably will, but you will have to face charges regarding your personal habits that are as true as holy writ and no shrewdly manipulated denial concerning which will satisfy the people. The proof of these charges shall be blazoned upon every housetop of America, in case you are the Republican nominee.

Conserving the Soil.

In many respects agriculture is more of a science in the Old World than in our own country. A writer in Farm and Fireside says the farmers of Europe do not talk of worn-out land as we do in America. They give more careful attention to the soil and they get better results. The same writer goes on to say:

"The American farmer has swept across the continent, leaving abandoned farms and worn out fields in his wake, until now we have come to the point where all our arable land has been occupied, and we can no longer wear it out and abandon it. We must not only maintain ourselves on the land we have, we must maintain a population that will soon be double and treble what it now is."

"Where shall we look for information if not to the countries of an equal degree of civilization that are much older than our own and have a much greater population to their area. Here in Europe are farm lands that have been in cultivation for a thousand years and are producing larger crops than our fertile virgin soils, and no one ever thinks of these farms wearing out. On the other hand, they become more valuable and more productive year by year. It is a notable fact that has been repeated over and over to the American farmer, that the average production per acre of the European countries, particularly England, France and Germany, is over twice the average production of the same crops in the United States. Wherein lies the difference? It is not because European lands are naturally more fertile than American, but because they are farmed more intensively. The land is better prepared for the seed, plowed deeper, worked more before seeding, and as far as possible the lands that are to be planted in the spring are plowed in the fall and allowed to weather during the winter, a system that deserves to be greatly extended on American farms, especially in our corn lands."

When the population of the United States was sparse farming land was plentiful. When the soil ceased to be productive the farmer abandoned his old fields and sought new ones. It is not so easy nowadays to do that sort of thing and in all parts of the country efforts are being made to rebuild these abandoned farms and make them productive once more. In addition deserts and swamp lands are being reclaimed and farmers are farming in localities that would have been regarded as impossible and unprofitable a quarter of a century ago.

It is a simpler and more sensible process to conserve and preserve a productive farm than to work it to death and then under take the task of rebuilding it. In this respect at least Americans can well afford to take lessons from the European farmers.—Courier-Journal.

Costly Bathing.

Charging it costs $6.00 to bathe a Senator in the luxurious bathrooms of the Senate office building, in Washington, Senator John Sharp Williams in a speech urged the removal of the baths to make room for public documents now stored in an unused car barn. He said: "The baths here arouse criticism. To keep them is like going through a bull pasture waving red flags, which makes a bad impression on the bull. It gives muckrakers a chance to rake and the graft isn't worth while."

Are You Nervous?

What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women.

Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.
